Museus
per créixer.
El rol dels
museus
en l'educació
per a la
ciutadania

Education is an indissociable condition of museums social function. Their public programs increasingly include, under a big educational umbrella, continued learning, shared creation, and alliance generation. This year's meeting will be on citizenship education, focusing on equity and equality of opportunities.

The reflection about education and about how to reformulate it are constant. It is necessary to adapt it to a complex society, while accomplishing 2030 Agenda, especially those regarding universal accessibility, peaceful and democratic communities right to life in and an emancipating education for citizens during their all life's.

Each of us connects with knowledge in a particular way. Museums, as learning generators, must facilitate this connection, using as many ways and paths as possible. Today's meeting gives us the chance to share thoughts and reflections of diverse museums' practices. Museums that have understood education as the catalyst of their offer. They are museums that not only offer emotion for emotion, while trying to be visible at social networks to add more followers. They love to be next to their visitors, exiting their comfort zone into a more reflexive path of learnings.
